Classroom Renovation in Anapra, Mexico

Hidden away on the outskirts of Ciudad Juarez, Mexico in the colonia of Anapra is a humble building that houses the Santo Niño Project. Within plain view of the United States border, a group of Catholic nuns discovered a call to serve children with special needs. Since 2003, they have crossed the border from El Paso, Tx three times a week to offer their services in a clinic built of cement, adobe and straw bale. Mrs. VanFleteren’s sister, Sr. Janet Gildea, SC was one of the 3 founders of Santo Niño!
